

ISG London Trip

On the 19th of November the MYP 4, 5, and DP Art students left for a 5 day trip to London. This memorable trip will never be forgotten by those who participated.

Day 1: This was one of the more un-eventful days with a 12 hour long bus/ferry ride to our destination, the hostel, Equity Point. This was a quiet day; however everyone was obviously psyched for the trip

Day 2: Of all the days this was the most action packed! First we visited the Globe theatre and were given a tour of this interesting place. Afterwards, we toured the art museum, Tate Modern, walked through Trafalgar Square, visited China Town, and ate at the famous Hard Rock Café!

Day 3: On this day we first visited the Saatchi Art Gallery which contains many interesting pieces of modern art. Of all the artwork, I most enjoyed the exhibit on the tattoos of convicts because the special meanings of each different tattoo were very interesting. After this we were given free time to look around and shop, ate at 'the pizza company', and watched the musical, 'Wicked'!

Although I have never been much of a fan of Musicals I must admit that the performers had some great voices.

Day 4: This day we walked through the Tower Bridge, visited the Borough Market where I bought some delicious cheesecake, scared ourselves silly in the London Dungeon, and received a tour of the BBC Studios. It was interesting to see how they created the sets for T.V. shows, and how they managed to make everything seem so real in such a fake environment.

Day 5: This day was filled with another long bus ride back to Holland. We all shared stories about our trip, laughed at jokes, and played card games the entire way through. It's surprising how short a 12 hour bus ride can feel when you're with friends!

This was an excellent trip and I thoroughly enjoyed every day of it. Everyone had a great time and each new excursion was interesting in its own special way. If given the chance to go again, I definitely would!
