

ISG DOES LONDON – MYP4/MYP5 DP ARTS

London is a fantastic city located in England. It is in fact, the capital of England.

London is a very famous city for its historical buildings. My classmates and I went on a trip to London where we stayed 4 nights in a very well located hostel.

The hostel was very close the subway so we had no trouble reaching our destinations.

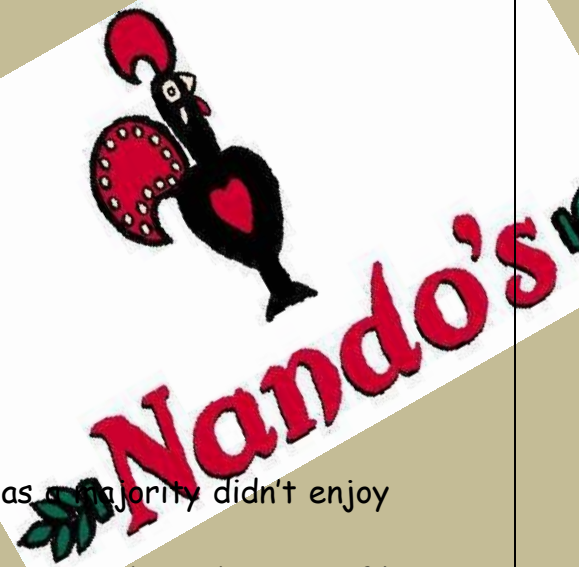

We manage to visit a lot of London's very famous and historical monuments and explore its city to the most.

During the days, we would take long walks around the city. There were several breaks which we would have while walking towards our destinations. Those breaks allowed us to explore the area more than just with the eyes. We got to enter the shops, restaurants, malls and a lot more around the area we agreed on staying. The breaks were very well planned and we had more than enough time to do our wishes. They varied from 2-3 hours.

Restaurants –

The restaurants we ate on were very good. The class as a majority didn't enjoy the pizza house very much. However, the Spaghetti House and Hard Rock Café made up to it. We all as a majority preferred the first night which was the Spaghetti House! The dinner was the part of the day when we all would talk about everything that happened throughout the long, tiring but fun day.

We also got the chance to visit Chinatown! We had a couple hours to look around.

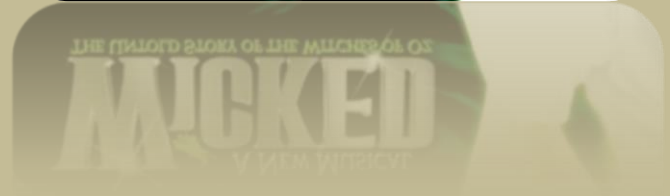

My friends and I decided to stay in Mac Donald's. We are not big fans of Chinese food and either of walking around in a crowd. Some people from other classes had meals and special drinks from China. I found it very interesting , I expected more Asian people to be there since its bringing a little part of their culture but I mostly saw what It appeared to me Europeans.

WICKED

The best part from the trip for most people was the theater. On the last night, we all as a group went to watch the musical Wicked by Stephen Schwartz. In my opinion, I found the message of the musical very smart. However I did not enjoy the acting and the musical itself. If I were to choose, I would have preferred going to watch the Phantom Of Opera.

structure very modern and attractive!

Overall, the school organized it extremely well the sitting arrangement and there were no trouble on entering the theater and leaving. I really liked the theater , I found the
